Dear prospective QI Partner

Quality Improvement Partners programme

Thank you for expressing an interest in our QI Partners programme. I am delighted that Leeds Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust has been chosen to take part in this exciting national project.

At our Trust we care for more than one million patients each year from across Yorkshire and Humber and even further afield. With your help we'll be able to continuously improve the care we provide so that these patients have the best possible care and outcomes.

This pack includes:

- Information about the QI Partners project;
- QI Partner role description;
- Application information and form;
- Contact details for our QI and patient experience teams.

We pride ourselves on our reputation as an organisation that puts continuous improvement at the forefront of patient care. By joining the Trust you will have access to nationally recognised training, mentorship and support from our award-winning QI teams as well as a range of exciting experiences to support your personal and professional skills development.

In return, we will benefit from the vast wealth of unique skills and experiences of people living and working in local communities: people who can represent the voice of our patients, and can give a new perspective on our work to improve patient care.

Once again, I'm delighted that you've expressed an interest in the role and I hope that you will join us at the QI Partners welcome event in October.

Kind regards

Julian Hartley
